assistance. In addition, if organizations have wish lists, they should forward them to the councilors by calling 423-9677 and leaving your name and phone number. Or e-mail RIpawscaws@aol.com. Either Kelly or Szeptowski will return the call to learn about the organization's needs. In the coming weeks, they will be writing about the wonderful organizations which help to make living in Jamestown a fabulous experience. Currently, the Jamestown Little League is planning field repairs and registering kids for spots on the teams. In the past, the playing fields have been in such poor condition that other towns would not allow their teams to play here? The Field Improvement Group has developed the following list of needs to bring the ball fields up to standard and make play safer:

- Portable fence for each dugout at $275 apiece for a total of $550.
- Backstop padding at a cost of $779.
- A Porta-Flex Polyfence System — outfield fencing with anchors, four at $480 apiece for a total of $1,920.00.

- Bleachers for the middle school field, two at $881 each for a total of $1762.00.
- Safety gates for dugouts on the major league field costing a total $1000.

Anyone who wants to help with the ball field improvements should call or e-mail Tony Rafanelli at 423-3953 or e-mail him at ajrafanelli@cox.net. Those who want to volunteer can also contact Roland Vigneault at 423-2493 or rlvigneault@cox.net.

Surrealist topic of museum lunch series

Next up in the Lunch with the Artist series at the Newport Art Museum is a discussion on Joan Miró. On Tuesday, March 21, Richard Tyre will discuss Miró, the Spanish Surrealist. The noontime discussion is free for museum members and costs $3 for non-members. Born in Barcelona, Miró moved to Paris in the mid-1930s, realizing like so many young artists that Paris was the center of the art world of his day. Gradually developing his style, he painted with the Surrealists for some time but left that group to create his dream-like canvases, employing simple, distorted shapes and lines painted with strong colors on neutral backgrounds based on memory, fantasy, and even hallucination. Miró was a study in opposites: his paintings, prints and sculptures broke new ground, but he appeared in public resembling a businessman in a suit. Lunch with the Artist is a monthly feature at the Newport Art Museum. Coffee is provided by the museum, and bag lunches are welcome. For more information, call 848-8200.
