

The Jamestown REAL ESTATE SHOWCASE

Islander to perform piano concert

The Jamestown Community Piano Group will present its first concert of the season on Saturday, Oct. 28. Pianist Nancy Bennett, a Beavertail resident, will perform at 3 p.m. at St. Matthew's church. The program will include Beethoven's Pastorale Sonata, solo works by Bach and 20th-century composer John Adams, and Ballade, Opus 19, by Gabriel Fauré.

lor's degree in piano performance at the University of Rhode Island. Her senior recital will be held Saturday, Nov. 11, at 1 p.m. at the URI Fine Arts Center Concert Hall. Bennett is a student of Dr. Manabu Takasawa, assistant professor of Music at URI, who has given two well-received concerts on the Jamestown piano.

Bennett is a graduate of Swarthmore College and received a master of fine arts from New York University's Institute of Film and Television. She returned to her piano studies after a career in New York producing television commercials for DMB&B Advertising. She teaches piano in Jamestown.

For the Fauré, Bennett will be joined by Dawn Chung, who will play the orchestral reduction. A graduate of URI's master's program in music, Chung performs both classical and jazz piano and teaches privately in South County. The piano that Bennett will play is a Schimmel that was purchased four years ago with donations from Jamestown residents.

The concert is free. Contributions for upkeep of the piano are welcome.
