Obituaries

Edward W. Day, Jr., 76

Edward W. Day, Jr., 76, of Conanicus Avenue, passed away Wednesday, Feb. 28, 2007 at Roger William Medical Center. He was the former husband of Ann P. (Torphy) Day.

Born in Cranston, a son of the late Honorable Edward W. and Madeline (Reagan) Day, he lived in Cranston most of his life, summering in Plum Beach and retiring in Jamestown.

Day served in the US Navy and received degrees from Brown University and Boston College Law School. He was an Attorney with Gardner, Sawyer, Cottam, Gates, Day & Sloan before retiring. In the 1960s, he was the Cranston City Solicitor. He was on the Ethics Committee for the Rhode Island Bar Association. He was an active member of the Jamestown Community Garden Co-Op. He was a communicant of St. Mark Church.

Besides his former wife he leaves his three children, Edward W. Day, III of Westerly, Maria Day Hyde and Ann P. Moone both of North Kingstown; a sister, Martha Quinn of West Warwick; nine grandchildren, Patricia, Madeline, Katherine, Jennelle, Peter, Mikhail, Mason, Faith and Gabriella and one great-grandson, Elijah. He was the brother of the late Virginia Schortman and Madeline "Midge" Cuzzone.

His Funeral was held March 3 from the FAGAN-QUINN Funeral Home, 825 Boston Neck Road, North Kingstown. A Mass of Christian Burial at St. Mark

Church followed. Burial was in RI Veterans Memorial Cemetery, Exeter. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions to the Jamestown Community Garden, C/O Bob & Lynda Sutton, 28 Rosemary Lane, Jamestown, RI 02835 will be appreciated.

Alexander P. Bates, Jr., 89

Alexander P. Bates, Jr., 89, of Beach Avenue, died Friday, March 2, 2007 at home. He was the husband of the late Louise W. (Welch) Bates. He was a Marine Engineer and a Naval Architect for over 40 years, retiring in 1985.

Born in West Greenwich, the son of the late Alexander P. Bates, Sr., and Emily M. (Bucklin) Bates, Bates was a graduate of M.I.T. Class of 1938, a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, The Audubon Society, and The Nature Conservancy. He was a communicant of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and was a member of the church choir. He volunteered in the parish thrift shop.

He is survived by two children, Susan B. Rasmussen and her husband Charles L. of Cranston and Geoffrey J. Bates and his wife Marcia A. of Derry, NH. He was the grandfather of two and great-grandfather of three.

A Requiem Eucharist will be celebrated Saturday, March 10, 2007 at 2 p.m. at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Jamestown, to which relatives and friends are invited. Burial will be private. Calling hours are respectfully omitted. In lieu of flowers, gifts in his memory to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, 87 Narragansett Ave., Jamestown, RI, 02835 would be appreciated.

Police Log

DUI arrest

Jacob M. Bruns, 26, of Coventry was charged March 5 with driving under the influence, police said.

At about 3 a.m., a police cruiser stopped behind Bruns' car at the corner of Narragansett and Conanicus Ave. and waited for him to leave the intersection. When he didn't drive away, the police honked their horn. When Bruns still didn't drive off, they flashed their lights and again got no response. Finally police shined a flashlight in the car and found Bruns asleep behind the wheel with his foot on the brake and the engine running, police said.

A pre-trial hearing was set for March 16 at Newport District Court.

Warrant arrest

Matthew A. Medeiros, 21, of North Kingstown was picked up for a bench warrant March 5 at the Bay Voyage Hotel where he works, police said.

Police were investigating an unrelated matter at the Bay Voyage when they saw Medeiros on the premises. The warrant was issued from Newport Second District Court for failure to appear for sentencing, according to police.

Car break-ins continue

Car break-ins at the south end of the downtown area continue, police said. They encourage all island residents to lock their cars and report anyone acting suspiciously. So far, only unlocked vehicles have been vandalized.
