Inspection

1, requires all boats with permanently installed marine toilets to be inspected and display a decal or face fines.

Kallfelz mentioned that he has been waiting for over three weeks for one of the two facilities on the island authorized to perform inspections to inspect his boat. The overwhelming number of requests could force boaters to take their vessels off island to be inspected or risk fines for not meeting the June 1 cut-off dates according to the harbor office.
