Did you know?

More people who support the barn on Lot 47.

"The Taylor Point site is too small, and the proposal is too expensive for what we will get. 30,000 vehicles cross the Newport Bridge daily. It is not fair to our Highway Department to give them such a limited facility and then subject them to daily aerial surveillance by the general public."

David Dolce — Town Council, 1997 - 1999

"The rational, logical choice is Lot 47. Why is the courage to choose it so elusive?"

Jerry McInyre— Town Council President, 1983 -1989

You have a choice. Vote reject August 28.

LEGAL TIP

A public school student left paralyzed after a trampoline accident could sue the school under the "willful and wanton" injury exception to the state's governmental immunity law, the Illinois Supreme court has ruled in reversing a summary judgement.

The plaintiff suffered a severe spinal injury that left him a quadriplegic while attempting to perform a forward flip off a mini-trampoline. The injury occurred during an extracurricular gymnastic event hosted by his high school.

He sued the school for failing to ensure that adequate safety equipment and gymnastic instruction were provided.

Applying the hazardous recreational activities statute, the court decided that the plaintiff could sue the school under an exception for "willful and wanton" conduct.
