

Painting class at Watson farm set for Sept. 16

The Watson Farm will offer a Watercolor Workshop on Sept. 15, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. A rain date is set for Sept. 16.

Artists have enjoyed the scenic landscapes of the historic Watson Farm for over 100 years. The farm offers panoramic vistas of the pastoral agricultural seaside landscape. This all-day workshop will enable participants to experience and capture the farm landscape and architecture through the medium of watercolor.

Artist Natalie Pfanstiehl, who has taught at the Newport Art Museum for nearly twenty years,

Chorus to begin rehearsal season

Weekly rehearsals for the Jamestown Community Chorus' holiday concert will begin Monday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m., at the Central Baptist Church. There are no auditions and all who enjoy singing are welcome.

This year's concerts will take place at CBC on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 8 and 9.

For more information, call 423-1574 or visit www.jamestownri.com/chorus.

will lead the workshop. Her work has been shown in national, regional and local juried shows and received numerous awards.

She will give a one-hour demonstration of landscape painting and spend the rest of the day assisting students with composition and painting techniques.

Students should bring their own painting materials and a bag lunch. All levels of experience are welcome. The workshop is $20 for Historic New England Garden & Landscape members, $25 for Historic New England members and $35 for non-members. To register and request more information, call Heather Minto at 423-0005.

The Watson Farm is a 280-acre working farm owned by Historic New England. Historic New England, presented by the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, is the oldest, largest, and most comprehensive regional preservation organization in the country. It offers a unique opportunity to experience the lives and stories of New Englanders through their homes and possessions. For more information, visit online at www.HistoricNewEngland.org.
