

Baker's to get fresh new look

In the next several weeks, Baker's Pharmacy will undergo an exterior facelift that will give the building a more shingle-style look.

Tim Baker, owner of the pharmacy building for some 20 years, said that a new covered entryway, a new roof and a complete residing job, will give the place a "beautiful exterior."

Baker, working with his son, Kevin Baker, an architect, sought some design help from the town's architectural design review firm, Ron DiMauro Architects, Inc., who came up with a plan in keeping with the island's coastal aesthetics.

While the work is going on, Baker's Pharmacy can be accessed through the doorway at the rear of the parking lot.
