Police Log

Drunk driving charged

Joseph A. Mendelsohn, 18, of 29 Marine Ave. was charged with drunk driving Jan. 1 at 12:30 a.m. after a traffic stop for driving erratically on Route 138.

Mendelsohn is scheduled to appear Jan. 5 in Newport District Court, police said.

Charged with buying alcohol for a minor

Steven Hackett, 23, of Middletown was charged Jan. 1 with buying alcohol for his juvenile girlfriend, a Jamestown resident, after the girlfriend's mother reported him to police. Hackett got into a car accident in which the girl was a passenger, police said.

Hackett is scheduled for a pre-trial hearing Jan. 5 in Newport District Court, police said.

Picked up on warrants

Adam Jackson, 37, of North Kingstown was charged Dec. 30 on outstanding warrants after a traffic stop on the Jamestown Bridge.

Jackson was taken to the Adult Correctional Institutions, police said.

Suspended license charged

Matthew Medeiros, 21, of North Kingstown was charged Dec. 24 with driving with a suspended license after a traffic stop on North Main Road.

He is scheduled to be arraigned Jan. 5 in Newport District Court, police said.

Vandalism reported

A resident of Boom Street told police Jan. 2 that his mailbox was tipped over, noodle soup was thrown on the windshield of his car, the lawn was toilet papered and a liquor bottle was thrown on the property.

Larcenies reported

- A woman from Beacon Avenue told police Dec. 31 that her former boyfriend took back all of her holiday gifts and moved out.

- A Shoreby Hill resident told police Dec. 24 that about 250 light bulbs were taken from the decorated tree on the Shoreby Hill Green. Each bulb was unscrewed from the string of lights, police said.

Buy a bracelet for Payton

Blue rubber bracelets that say "Payton" are available, for $2 at the Jamestown Police Station to support the family of Payton Watson, who has been diagnosed with leukemia.

Payton is a grade-5 student at Hamilton Elementary School in North Kingstown, and she is the daughter of Sgt. Frank Watson of the Jamestown Police Department and Liz (Goode) Watson, longtime residents of Jamestown.

The IBPO Local 305 of the Jamestown Police Department has established a medical fund to assist Payton and her family with their needs. They ask that members of the law enforcement community as well as the general public contribute to the "Payton Watson Medical Fund," at IBPO.
