

Obituaries

Eleanor Tyler

Eleanor Beede Tyler died Thursday, May 3, 2007.

Eleanor grew up in Jamestown, and although she resided in Cincinnati for over 50 years, she spent a good deal of time at her house on Arnold Street on the shore of the West Passage.

She is survived by her children, Lucinda G. Tyler of Indianapolis and David B. Tyler of Cincinnati, and her brother Herbert Beede.

Memorial contributions may be directed to the "Judge in Residence Program" c/o University of Cincinnati College of Law, P.O. Box 210040, Cincinnati, OH 45221-0040.

Services are planned at Beaver-tail State Park later in the year.

Ernest Mason, 83

Ernest A. Mason, 83, of Luger Street, died May 3, 2007 at South County Nursing Center in North Kingstown. He was the husband of Nancy Mason.

He is survived by Rosalind V. Mason of Redhill, London, England, and was the step-father of Robert Bailey of Jamestown, Bonnie Waddicor of Portsmouth, and William Bailey of Rochester, N.H. He had six grandchildren.

His remains have been donated to Brown University Medical School. There will be no memorial service.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be sent in his memory to the Jamestown Fire Department, 50 Narragansett Ave., Jamestown, RI 02835, or to the Jamestown Emergency Medical Services, P.O. Box 8, Jamestown, RI 02835.

Police Log

Larcenies reported

• A fisherman reported May 1 that a cooler full of squid was taken from his truck parked on Ft. Getty Road.

• An employee at Conanic Marina reported May 2 that a ladder was taken from the docks and lobster pots and other items were thrown around.

• A resident of Longfellow Road told police May 4 that an outboard motor was taken from the sailboat parked in the yard.

• A boat owner told police May 4 that a shore-powered electrical adapter was taken from a locked box on the docks at Conanic Marina.

Vandalism reported

A resident of Southwest Avenue reported May 7 that a cement truck drove through and destroyed electrical lines from the street to the house. The cement company was making amends, police said.

Driving while suspended license

Crystal Seco, 21, of Warwick, was stopped May 2 on Route 138 and charged with driving with a suspended license. Seco is due May 11 in Newport District Court.

Picked up on warrant

Achille M. Wade, 63, of Providence was picked up May 6 on Route 138 for not having an inspection sticker. Police said Wade was wanted by Washington County Court for failing to appear and was taken to Washington County for processing, police said.

Hodges donates his JEMS stipend

The director of the Jamestown Emergency Medical Services, Rick Hodges, returned the $5,000 stipend he receives as Director of JEMS to the town of Jamestown and the money's to be used to purchase defibrillators for the Jamestown Police Department in memory of Jim Filkins. Filkins was the administrator of JEMS who passed away in February of this year.

The police department had several defibrillators and they recently received a donation to purchase new batteries, but the purchase of these three additional units will mean that all the Jamestown police cars will have these life-saving devices.

The Jamestown Police Department will receive three Philips Heart Start FRX defibrillators. An additional advantage of the Philips Heart Start FRX is that the pads on these machines are compatible with the larger version defibrillators carried on the JEMS ambulance.

Ft. Getty event will honor Jim Filkins

A date has been set for an event to celebrate the life of Jim Filkins, a community member who died over the winter.

Organizers are planning a June 24 daytime picnic at the Ft. Getty pavilion that will feature Irish music.

Filkins, a retired art teacher, served on the Jamestown School Committee and was active in the administration of the Jamestown Emergency Medical Services organization.

Apply for club scholarships

May 12th is the deadline for submitting applications to the Jamestown Women's Club for its two $500 scholarships.

These will be awarded to two high school seniors who are Jamestown residents and who plan to continue their education.

Applications are available at the Jamestown library and should be sent to the Jamestown Women's Club, PO Box 412, Jamestown, R.I., 02835. For more information, call Mim Monroe at 423-0383
