Get computer help at the library

The Jamestown library is pleased to announce a computer assistance program to members of the Jamestown community.

Robert Edgar and Robert Umbenhauer, two retired information technology specialists, will be available at the library on Tuesday mornings, from 10 a.m. to noon, to provide help with questions regarding home computers.

These two volunteers can guide people through most problems, from basic information on getting started with a computer, signing up for an e-mail account to downloading software. The service is on a first-come, first served basis and is free and open to the public.

For more information, call 423-7280.

New yoga classes offered

Jamestown resident Kim Chandler, owner and director of Innerlight Center for Yoga in Middletown, and an adjunct faculty member for Kripalu Center in Lenox, Mass., is offering a special five-week series of yoga classes this summer.

This new class, which is sponsored by the Jamestown Recreation Department, will be held Mondays at 8:30 a.m., beginning June 25 at 32 Pemberton Ave. The 75-minute mellow vinyasa yoga class will present a flow of poses that emphasize strengthening, stretching and stress management, through breath awareness and alignment principles.

This class is being added to Chandler's on-going moderate yoga classes held on Tuesday evenings at 5:30 p.m. and Friday mornings at 9 a.m. Drop-ins are welcome anytime at $15 per class. A 6-class card, which can be used for any of Chandler's classes, costs $60.

For more information, contact the recreation office at 423-7211.

Father's Day doughnut sale

The Knights of Columbus Council 9197 is sponsoring a Father's Day Krispy Kreme doughnut fund-raiser on Sunday, June 17, from 8 to 11 a.m. at the entrance to St. Mark Church.

The Knights encourage everyone to stop by St. Mark for a box of the Krispy Kreme doughnuts, which will be prepared fresh that morning. Doughnuts are available at $6 per dozen or two doughnuts for $1. The Knights will use all proceeds from the fund-raiser to support the group's various charities.

Advance advertising deadlines for Jamestown Press Fourth of July issue

Our nation's Independence Day — the Fourth of July — falls on a Wednesday this year. The mid-week holiday will mean that the Jamestown Press will be published two days earlier than normal.

Look for your copy of the Press on Tuesday, July 3. As usual, the Press will be mailed to every home in Jamestown and will be distributed free throughout the island and adjacent communities.

Here are the deadlines for the early publishing schedule:

Display Advertising 5 p.m. on Thursday, June 28

Classified Advertising Noon on Friday, June 29

News Items, Letters Noon on Friday, June 29

Plan now to get your advertising and news to the Jamestown Press early in order to be in the Fourth of July issue.

Reminder from the Dawgz

The Fourth of July is right around the corner and if anyone has not sent their donation to the Rocket Dawgz for the fireworks extravaganza, take the time to get it out soon. The group is behind on donations compared to previous years. They suggest if islanders want to see another spectacular display, they will know what to do!

This year's show will be at Mackerel Cove on Independence Day (rain date is July 5) at 9:15 p.m. Send donations to: Fireworks Fund, P.O. Box 1776, Jamestown, RI 02835 or donate online at: www.jamestownri.com/fireworks.

Prout graduates nine islanders

The Prout School, in Wakefield, graduated nine island students at their June 12 ceremony.

Students receiving diplomas were Zachary Boyle, Abigail Holland, Emily Holland, Holly Huffine, Will Kopelcheck, Daniel Lavallee, Austin Rotondo, Alice Scotti and Kyle Tiexiera.
