

Obituary

Lucille K. Lawrence, 81

Lucille K. (Avery) Lawrence, 81, of Beacon Avenue, passed away Thursday, June 14, 2007 at Vanderbilt Rehabilitation Center of Newport Hospital. She was the beloved wife of Norman E. Lawrence, Sr. for 60 years.

Born in Cook County, Ga., she was a daughter of the late William and Alice Leola Pearl (Schoffield) Avery.

Mrs. Lawrence was a bookkeeper for Independent Life Insurance Company in Jacksonville, Fla. prior to her marriage and later worked as a school bus driver for the Jamestown School Department. For ten years she worked for Greta's Florist in North Kingstown. An active member of the Central Baptist Church, she was a member of the Shepherds, was a Sunday school teacher, treasurer and assisted with the landscaping. She was a volunteer for Habitat for Humanity. Besides her husband she leaves six children, Timothy S. Lawrence and Janice C. Ryng-Dutton of Jamestown, Norman E. Lawrence, Jr. of Pennsylvania, George S. Lawrence of Everett, Wash., William A. Lawrence of New Bedford, Mass., Patricia S. Nascimento of Coventry; a brother, John A. Avery of Ray City, Ga.; a sister, Alice Frances Tatum of Jacksonville, Fla.; 11 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by seven siblings.

A memorial service was held Tuesday at Central Baptist Church in Jamestown. Burial will be on Saturday in Brushy Creek Cemetery, Georgia. Arrangements were by Fagan-Quinn Funeral Home, North Kingstown. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions to Habitat for Humanity of RI, Greater Providence, Box 37, Providence, RI 02907 or the American Cancer Society, 931 Jefferson Blvd., St. 304, Warwick, RI 02886 will be appreciated.

Police Log

Three stopped on multiple charges

Jonathan E. Sole, 20, of North Kingstown, was stopped June 17 on Route 138 West for erratic driving. He was charged with first offense driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol, first offense possession of marijuana, refusal to submit to a Breathalyzer test, and possession of alcohol by an underage person, according to police. He was held and arraigned at the police department and a July 6 pre-trial date was scheduled at Newport District Court, police said.

• Kristopher J. DeAngelis, 21, of North Kingstown, was charged with first offense possession of marijuana and held and arraigned at the police department. A pre-trial hearing is scheduled for July 6 at Newport District Court, according to police.

• Dominic Hazzard, 19, of North Kingstown, was charged with first offense possession of marijuana and possession of alcohol by a minor. Hazzard was held and arraigned at the police department and a pre-trial hearing was scheduled for July 6 at Newport District Court, according to police.

Weapons violation and disorderly conduct charge

Daniel Ward, 18, of Upton, Mass., was stopped June 17 at Conanicus Avenue and East Ferry and charged with a weapons violation. A call to the police station reported passengers in the vehicle Ward was driving were throwing fireworks at pedestrians. Police stopped and searched the vehicle and held Ward at the police station where he was arraigned. A pretrial date was scheduled for July 6 at Newport District Court, police said.

Two Jamestown juveniles were charged with disorderly conduct in the same case. They were referred to Rhode Island Family Court, police said.

Learn about adoption options

The Department of Children, Youth and Families is hosting a Foster Care and Adoption Information Night on Wednesday, June 27, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the DCYF Office at 650 Ten Rod Rd., North Kingstown.

DCYF staff, foster, and adoptive parents will be available to explain the program and answer questions. The information night is open to anyone interested in exploring becoming a foster or adoptive parent for children in DCYF care. Stop by and learn how to make a difference in the life of a child. For more information, call Robin Perez, DCYF foster parent recruiter, at 528-3700 or the DCYF North Kingstown office at 294-5300.

Scholarships announced

Two outstanding Jamestown students graduating from North Kingstown High School have been selected to receive the Beavertail Lighthouse Museum Association's (BLMA) W. Craig Armington Scholarship.

Meryl Evangelista will begin studies in the fall at Elon University, and Caitlin Crawford will attend Wake Forest University, both in North Carolina. Evangelista and Crawford, selected from a very competitive applicant pool, were deemed tops in academics, extracurricular programs, and volunteer activities.

Each student displayed effective writing skills in answering the application question about ways that growing up in Jamestown has shaped her goals and expectations for college and other future endeavors.

BLMA scholarships have been awarded since 1999 in memory of W. Craig Armington, a former treasurer, active with the museum association from its inception in 1993. The all-volunteer BLMA preserves and manages the lighthouse museum and its exhibits which trace, in broad strokes, the history of U. S. lighthouses, using Rhode Island's light stations as examples.

Moses Brown graduates six

At the June 7 commencement ceremonies at Moses Brown School, six Jamestown residents received diplomas.

Graduating were Emily Ann Abbood, Zoe Lynn Amerigian, Alexander Raymond Easton, Andrew Donald Easton, Stephen Joseph Evangelista and Grace Samantha Smith Vidaurre.
