

Islander named to state ethics panel

Jamestown J. William Harsch has been appointed to the state Ethics Commission.

Harsch is one of two attorneys named to fill vacancies on the commission this week by Governor Donald Carcieri.

"This is a tremendous honor. I am very flattered," Harsch told the Jamestown Press. "The Ethics Commission plays an important role in enforcing standards of behavior for public officials in this state."

Harsch, a Republican, is a former town solicitor for Jamestown and Tiverton. He made unsuccessful bids for state attorney general in 2002 and 2006.

RENOVATED VICTORIAN COTTAGE

"Whitewood" (c. 1887) is a beautifully renovated Victorian cottage on over a half acre of land just south of the village and harbor. It is a ten room home featuring over 4,000 square feet of living area, including five bedrooms, three full baths and two half baths. A traditional, mahogany porch wraps around the house and provides a relaxing, protected, outside getaway. The grounds are privately landscaped and include a heated, inground pool with a cabana and full bath which alternatively can serve as guest quarters. Exquisite patio, lush gardens and a yard perfect for croquet. $2,250,000

SALTBOX CAPE AT SOUTH END OF VILLAGE

Located on a cul de sac near the marina, this home has an open living room with sliders to a private brick patio which is beautifully landscaped. There is a first floor bedroom and bath. Designed with energy efficiency in mind as passive solar. Great year round home or summer getaway. $589,000
