

Hospital to benefit from 'Sweet' race

South County Hospital is dedicating its 14th Annual 5K Road Race in memory of the late Freda Sweet, who participated in the hospital's cardiac rehabilitation exercise program three times a week for five years, prior to her death last month at age 97.

Freda Sweet celebrated life through her passion for dance and volunteer work.

Registration may be done online at www.schospital.com, or by calling 788-1610. Pre-registration, prior to April 4, is $20 per person. After April 4, registration is $25. Registration tables will open at 7:30 a.m. on race day. The race begins at 9 a.m. sharp, rain or shine.

All proceeds from the 14th Annual 5K Celebration of Life Race will fund vital programs and services for cardiac and pulmonary rehabilitation patients of South County Hospital's Cardiopulmonary Wellness & Fitness Center.

Nominate a woman for yearly award

The Rhode Island Commission on Women (RICW) is requesting nominations for its 2008 Women of the Year Award. The award recognizes influential women in Rhode Island who demonstrate a history of individual achievement, or who have made lasting and positive contributions in the community to help elevate the presence of women and improve the quality of life for women in the state.

Created in 1989, the Women of the Year Award celebrates the work of pioneering Rhode Island women who are influential in areas such as the arts, business, economic development, employment, education, health, legal rights and politics. These women have a positive impact on the lives of women and/or girls in our state through their work as role models and mentors.

To nominate a woman for this award, call 222-6105 or visit the RICW website at www.ricw.ri.gov. Nominees must live or work in Rhode Island. The deadline for nominations is May 2 at 4 p.m.

Salve Regina hosts area job fair next week

Employers representing nearly 80 organizations in fields such as finance, insurance, hospitality, social services, law enforcement, public service/government, health care, technology, education and more will participate in the "Gateway to Success" Career Fair at Salve Regina University on Thursday, April 3, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Free and open to the public, the career fair, which is sponsored by the university's Office of Career Development, will take place at the Rodgers Recreation Center.

Employers representing for-profit, non-profit, governmental and private agencies in the region will be on hand to answer career questions, furnish job and internship applications, display products and services, and accept resumes. Representatives will also be arranging job/informational interviews.

The Rodgers Recreation Center is located in the center of Salve Regina's Ochre Point neighborhood campus. For more information, contact the university's Office of Career Development at 341-2203.
