

OBITUARIES

Madeline Bronovitsky, 88

Madeline (Horton) Bronovitsky, 88, of Warwick, died Wednesday, April 30, 2008 at the Kent Regency. She was the wife of the late Alek Bronovitsky.

Born in Providence, a daughter of the late George W. and Mary (Adams) Horton, she lived in Warwick and formerly resided in Jamestown and Narragansett.

She was the beloved mother of Alek Bronovitsky, Noel Rivera, Carrie Levendusky and Natalie Kelly. She was the sister of Alfred Jacobs and Gladys Cornicello. She is also survived by 12 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Her funeral service was held on Tuesday from the Thomas & Walter Quinn Funeral Chapel, 2435 Warwick Ave. Burial was in Quidnessett Cemetery, North Kingstown.

Grace Walls, 97

Grace Butterworth Walls, 97, died peacefully Wednesday morning at the Philip Hulitar Hospice Center in Providence following a short illness. She was the wife of the late Alden R. Walls, a prominent Narragansett Bay yachtsman.

She is the daughter of the late John R. Butterworth, Jr., and Florence (Jackson) Butterworth, and sister of the late Ralph Butterworth and Dorothy (Butterworth) Young.

Her survivors include two sons, Alden R. Walls, Jr., of Jamestown, and Richard B. Walls, of Foster; and a daughter, Marcia (Walls) Bosworth, of Bristol; also eight grandchildren, who include Matthew and Jonathan Hayes of Bristol; Wendy McGovern of Warwick, Kim McKiernan of Scituate, and Scott Walls of Johnston; Andrew Walls of Richmond, Va., Garrett Walls of New York City, N.Y., and Jeffrey Walls of Fall River, Mass. There are thirteen great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Walls was born in Providence on Dec. 1, 1910, and raised in Edgewood where she attended local schools and was active in several youth groups including the Cranston Assembly No. 2 of Rainbow Girls. She was a graduate of Lincoln School and Katherine Gibbs School.

A resident of Barrington for 47 years, she previously lived in Andover, Mass., Atlanta, GA., and Old Greenwich, Conn. She served as assistant manager of the Cherry and Webb store at the Barrington Shopping Center, and earlier she was employed by Rich's Department Store in Atlanta, and Bloomingdale's in Stamford, Conn. After retirement from Cherry's, she was a proofreader at the East Bay Newspapers.

She was a communicant of St. John's Episcopal Church in Barrington. For several years she was a crewmember of her husband's Herreshoff S-Boat, and later his Ensign, both prize-winning boats. She was a life member of both the Rhode Island Yacht Club and the Barrington Yacht Club.

She was close to her extended family and was considered its matriarch by the eighty members of the Butterworth clan. Her personal charm and her recollection of life experiences were always a great treat for her family and friends.

A memorial service for Mrs. Walls will be held on Saturday, May 10, at 11 a.m. in the Historic Chapel at Swan Point Cemetery, Blackstone Boulevard, Providence, with the Rev. C. Neal Goldsborough, Rector of St. John's Church, officiating. In lieu of flowers the family suggests donations to Home & Hospice Care of RI, 169 George St., Pawtucket, RI 02860. Multiple charges filed in late night fight

Michael Cabral, 19, of 950 East Shore Rd., was charged May 4 with driving to endanger resulting in personal injury, failure to assist in a motor vehicle accident with a pedestrian, and leaving the scene of the accident after police picked him up on Highland Drive, police said.

William Marsh, 21, of 30 Lawn Ave., was charged May 4 with simple assault in the same case after he was found at the scene of the accident on Highland Drive.

Cabral, Marsh, and a third man, who was not charged, allegedly spent an evening on the town in Newport and returned to Jamestown about 1:30 a.m. According to police, Cabral and Marsh got into an altercation on the way back to Jamestown and Marsh left Cabral's car, saying he would walk home. Cabral drove away and took the third party home to Cedar Hill Drive. Then Cabral returned and found Marsh not far from where he dropped him off. They again got into an altercation and Cabral ran to his car to get away from Marsh. When he drove away, his Jeep brushed against Marsh, knocking him to the ground. Cabral allegedly ran over Marsh's leg, police said.

When police arrived at the scene, Marsh was on the ground and Cabral had fled. Marsh identified Cabral and police later found him walking on Highland Drive. Marsh was taken to the hospital, treated and released.

The two men were held at the Jamestown Police Station until the next morning where they were arraigned by a justice of the peace. Marsh was given a pretrial hearing date of May 9 at Newport District Court. Cabral was charged with multiple felonies and the case is being presented to the Attorney General's office at Newport Superior Court. Both men were released on their own recognizance, police said.

7:30 p.m., May 1, All units responded to a training drill at the fire station on Narragansett Avenue.

1 a.m., May 4, Car 3 and Engine 3 went to Hamilton Avenue for a vehicle accident.
