Get a flu shot today at Baker's Pharmacy

Winter is on the way — and so is the flu season. Baker's Pharmacy on Narragansett Avenue is hosting a flu clinic today, Oct. 30, from 9 to 11 a.m.

The clinic is open to everyone age 18 and older. Present an insurance card in order to receive a shot.

Costume contest and teen dance Friday

The Jamestown Teen Center and the Substance Abuse Prevention Task Force are having a "Monster Ball" at the Jamestown Fire Station on Friday, Oct. 31, from 6 to 10 p.m. There will be a costume contest with cash prizes and games from 6 to 8 p.m., and families and children of all ages are invited to attend. After 8 p.m. will be a teens-only dance party.

The cost is $5 for anyone in costume and $8 if not in costume. All proceeds will benefit activities for Jamestown youth. For more information, contact Debbie at 423-7261 or email jamestownteens@yahoo.com.

Treats for youngsters at the Secret Garden

Costumed youngsters are invited to visit the Secret Garden while trick or treating in Jamestown on Friday evening.

Owner David Urban said he will maintain the tradition, started by the shop's previous owners, of giving out free glow sticks for all on Halloween. Any child who stops by in costume will receive glow sticks and balloons.

Boy scouts to collect for food bank Saturday

Island Boy Scouts will be coming around this Saturday, Nov. 1 to collect bags of food for the Rhode Island Community Food Bank.

Empty bags were dropped off last Saturday and should be filled with healthy non-perishable items and left near the mailbox or at the door of the house no later than 9 a.m.

Suggested items to fill the bags are canned soups, tuna, peanut butter, canned fruits and vegetables, pasta, rice, granola bars and canned or dried beans.

For more information, contact Scoutmaster Jim Archibald at 423-3094.

Teens to see Celtics play in Banknorth Garden

The Jamestown Teen Center is going to the TD Banknorth Garden for a Celtic's basketball game against the Portland Trailblazers on Friday, Dec. 5.

Transportation will be leaving the Teen Center at 3:30 p.m. and will return at 11p.m. Space is limited, so sign up as soon as possible.

The cost of the trip is $40. Transportation will be provided by Viking Tours. For more information, contact Debbie at 423-7261 or email jamestownteens@yahoo.com.

Teens to visit colleges on Election Day

The Jamestown Teen Center will be touring Brown University and the Rhode Island School of Design on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Between campus visits, the group will have lunch on Thayer Street.

On that day, North Kingstown High School students will be out of school for a Professional Development Day. Transportation will be leaving the Teen Center at 8 a.m. and will return at 4 p.m. Space is limited, so sign up as soon as possible. All high school juniors and seniors are welcome to come on the trip. For more information, contact Debbie at 423-7261 or email jamestownteens@yahoo.com.

Learn to get organized at the library

The Friends of the Jamestown Library will host a talk on Thursday, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m. by Susan Scott, owner of Clear Spaces, who will clue participants in on how to organize themselves, their homes and their kids for the holidays.

Susan Scott is an artist and professional organizer who recently moved here from Charlottesville, Va.

She created Clear Spaces Consulting to share her love of beauty and order in the home and office, and brings to her clients years of experience in de-cluttering, organizing, moving preparations, and creating pleasing environments. Scott's calm reassurance and expertise bring clarity and purpose to any project. She understands how people can feel overwhelmed by stuff and "to do" lists and supports her clients in clearly identifying and reaching their goals.

This fun program will introduce people to some of the skills and tricks that will make this holiday season the best ever, as they focus on what's important. Clear the clutter on every level, mental and physical with this gifted speaker. Susan is a member of the National Association of Professional Organizers.

Refreshments will be served. The program is free and open to the public. For more information, call the library at 423-7280.

URI piano students perform on Sunday

The Jamestown Community Piano will be featured this Sunday, Nov. 2, at 4 p.m., as pianists from the University of Rhode Island music department perform at St. Matthew's church. The concert is the second of four concerts planned by the Jamestown Community Piano Association for the 2008-2009 season.

William Grueb, a graduate student preparing for his graduate recital in the spring, will play selections from Samuel Barber's Excursions for Piano, Opus 20 and Sergey Prokofiev's Romeo and Juliet. He will be joined by Natatia Nugent, Miranda Nero, and Daniel Kutty, all students of Grace Urrico, who are giving their senior recitals during the 2008 fall semester. They will play selections from their senior recital programs.

The concert will be the second annual recital concert by URI piano students selected by Manabu Takasawa, associate professor of music at the University of Rhode Island.

The community piano, purchased by public subscription in November 2001, is a seven-foot Schimmel grand.

The Jamestown Community Piano Association is an organization whose purpose is to maintain the piano for use by the community and to present concerts that feature the piano. The concerts are free. Donations for piano maintenance and performance support are appreciated. For further information, call 423-0515.
