Pennfield to host holiday craft sale

It is "Cornucopia" time again at the Pennfield School.

Tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 7 and Saturday, Nov. 8 the school will host more than 55 vendors displaying and selling their beautiful wares.

This year the gymnasium, music room, lunchroom and hallways will be filled with handmade jewelry, pottery, sculpture, photography, handbags, clothing, paintings, glasswork and home décor items.

Friday night is the preview party. For a $25 donation, attendees may be the first to see the show, sample some delectable hors d'oeuvres, have a glass of wine and begin the holiday shopping season.

On Saturday, Nov. 8, the hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and lunch will be served in the "Artist's Pallet Cafe" where they will serve homemade soups and chili.

Pennfield School is located at 110 Sandy Point Ave. in Portsmouth.

"Oklahoma!" to run at the URI theatre

The University of Rhode Island's prize-winning Theatre Department announces its upcoming production, "Oklahoma!," which will be performed Nov. 13 to 16, and Nov. 20 to 23 at the Robert E. Will Theatre, Fine Arts Center in Kingston.

Admission is $18 for the general public, $14 for senior citizens and URI faculty/staff, and $12 for students.

All performances will begin at 7:30 p.m., except Sundays, which will start at 3 p.m.

"Oklahoma!" Rodgers and Hammerstein's first collaboration remains, in many ways, their most innovative. The play set the standards and established the rules of musical theater still being followed or broken today. The original 1943 production won a special Pulitzer Prize for Drama.

Prix fixe menus for restaurant week

Two island restaurants will participate in the upcoming Newport Restaurant Week, scheduled for Nov. 9 to 15.

The Bay Voyage Inn and Trattoria Simpatico are two of many area eateries that will offer special menus and exceptional values during the week.

On Friday, Nov. 14, The Bay

Voyage will offer a seasonal wine tasting with small plate samplings and live jazz. The cost is $25 per person and reservations can be made at 423-2100.

Trattoria Simpatico will offer a seasonal three-course dinner menu for $30 per person. Make reservations at 423-3731.

For a complete listing of all participating restaurants, visit www.gonewportrestaurantweek.com.

Gingerbread exhibit, workshop at mansion

There is nothing like the smell of fresh baked gingerbread, Christmas carols, and a cup of cocoa.

Bring the whole family and sign up before Monday, Nov. 24, for the "Family Gingerbread House Workshop" to be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, at 2 p.m. and create a tasty piece of art. In addition, the Carriage house will play host to "Gingerbread Wonderland" a gingerbread house exhibit on Dec. 20 and 21 from 1 to 8 p.m.

Register by Monday, Dec. 8, to include a homemade gingerbread creation in this exhibit. For more information about the program and registration, call 253-2707, ext.16.

'Mass for Peace' debuts at Courthouse

The South County Chamber Singers, under the direction of Enrico Garzilli, will perform the Rhode Island premier of Karl Jenkins' "The Armed Man: A Mass for Peace," at the Courthouse Center for the Arts on Route 138 in West Kingston.

The concert will be on Sunday, Nov.16, at 2 p.m. The Chamber Singers will be joined by members of the University of Rhode Island's elite concert choir Lively Experiment and will be accompanied by orchestra. This concert is a collaboration between the South County Chamber Singers and the Courthouse Center for the Arts.

The Armed Man: A Mass for Peace is an awe-inspiring and hauntingly beautiful composition that contemplates war and peace. It uses texts from classic poets, the Bible, the traditional Mass, and Muslim, Hindu, and Japanese sources.

Tickets are $25 and may be obtained by contacting the Courthouse Center for the Arts box office at 782-1018, ext. 14.
