Beauty expert to speak tonight at library

The Friends of the Jamestown Library have rescheduled a talk by Susan West Kurz, who will discuss her book "Awakening Beauty."

The new date will be Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7 p.m.

Kurz nurtured Dr. Hauschka Skin Care, Inc. from a modest import business to the U.S. supplier of the industry's premiere holistic skin care brand. She is renowned as an expert on holistic beauty, a subject she's studied since 1972 when she was first introduced to Dr. Hauschka Skin Care products and treatment methods.

Kurz divides her time between Amherst, Mass. and Jamestown. She is married to Clifford Kurz, co-founder of Dr. Hauschka Skin Care, Inc.

The program is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Christmas fair coming Dec. 6

Central Baptist Church's annual Christmas Fair will feature a "green" theme and a number of new items. It will take place from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 6.

A large variety of designer-themed gift baskets will be available for $40 and under. Choices include the Cat's Meow, Puppy Love, Spa Time, Bird Feeder and Unexpected Guest.

Coffee lovers may purchase Jamestown Java in two custom-packaged blends. Also on sale will be locally designed tote bags, which are created from recycled materials and can be folded to fit in a purse or pocket.

The fair will feature handmade crafts from around the world. Children and adults in developing countries have created these fair-trade items as a way of supporting themselves.

As in past years, the event also will include custom designed wreaths with fresh greens; handmade winter wear created from colorful fleece fabric; and a large assortment of delicious baked goods.

During the fair's silent auction, shoppers may bid on restaurant gift certificates, tickets to plays and movies, spa and other services and works of art.

While parents or grandparents are shopping, children will be able to make a gift at the Kids' Table. Shoppers also may take a break and enjoy a lunch that will feature lobster bisque, sandwiches, salads, and quesadillas.

Central Baptist Church is located at 99 Narragansett Ave. For more information about the fair, call 423-1651.

Play adult volleyball at recreation center

The Jamestown Recreation Department will offer a winter session of adult recreational volleyball beginning Tuesday, Dec. 9, at the recreation center. The cost for the league is $40 per person and it will run through March 31, every Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. Sign up at the Recreation Center, 41 Conanicut Ave. For more information, call Jill at 423-7260, or email jgoldstein@jamestownri.net.

St. Mark to hold Christmas festival

The annual St. Mark Christmas Festival will be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to noon in the Church Hall.

The festival features a "Luck of The Irish," booth, the "Taste and See Café," with homemade soup, chowder and sausage 'n peppers. There will be live music by "Celtic Gathering," from noon to 1 p.m. on Saturday. Many items will be for sale, such as greenery arrangements, hand crafted gifts, baked goods, and several raffle prizes.

The church is located at 60 Narragansett Ave., in Jamestown.

Holiday craft show this weekend

The Melrose Avenue School will be transformed into a shopper's paradise on Saturday, Dec. 6 — filled with a wide variety of homemade items, from stocking stuffers to elegant gifts.

The Conanicut Island Art Association hosts this one-day show. Doors are open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The craft show and sale features many hand-made items, including jewelry, baskets, glass, pottery, clay creations, clothing, and small paintings. The Melrose School is located at 76 Melrose Ave. There is plenty of free parking and the building is handicap accessible.

New art show opening at town hall gallery

The opening of the Conanicut Island Art Association's next show, "32" will be next Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Jamestown Town Hall Gallery.

There will be an opening reception from 5 to 7 p.m. and guests are invited to mingle with the artists and enjoy some light refreshments.

The show will run through Feb. 12, 2009. This open, non-juried show will feature 65 original works from local artists.

The Jamestown Town Hall Gallery is located at 93 Narragansett Ave. It is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays. The show is free, open to the public and handicap accessible.

Call art show chairwoman Wendy Crooks at 423-0993 or Don Miller at 423-0612 for more information.

Episcopal church to host holiday bazaar

St. Matthew's annual Christmas Bazaar will be held in the Parish Hall at 87 Narragansett Avenue, Jamestown on Saturday, Dec. 6 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

This is a chance to purchase beautiful handmade knitted and crocheted items, jewelry and other affordable gifts, Christmas decorations and wonderful homemade baked treats. There will be a door raffle for various gift baskets. It's a great time of island fellowship and a chance to take care of some holiday shopping early and conveniently.

PTO opens holiday boutique for kids

The Jamestown PTO will host the annual Young Shoppers event today, Dec. 4 and Friday, Dec. 5 at the island schools.

This event gives the students at Jamestown Schools an opportunity to do some holiday shopping for families, friends and pets. The kids can shop during day with their class or after school.

Tonight, the store will be open in conjunction with family movie night.
