Jamestown Women's Club to publish annual island telephone directory

The Jamestown Women's Club and the Jamestown Press have started work on the 2009-2010 Jamestown Telephone Directory.

The annual publication is mailed in the spring to every postal patron in Jamestown.

If you would like to advertise in the phonebook, call the Jamestown Press at 423-3200 or e-mail Jeff@JamestownPress.com. The advertising rates this year are the same as last year.

Don't delay. The advertising deadline is Friday, April 10.

Islanders who would like to change their listings in the directory can complete the form in this week's newspaper on page 4. You can also e-mail Phonebook@JamestownPress.com to change your directory listing.

Please note that the listings for the Jamestown Telephone Directory are supplied by Verizon. If you would like your listing modified, you must notify the Jamestown Press by e-mail or by mailing the form. Listing changes are not carried over from previous years. The deadline for listing changes is April 3.

Proceeds from the Jamestown Telephone Directory are used by the Jamestown Women's Club to fund local charitable projects.

MURPHY'S LAW

When you admit to "carrying water" for someone whose action/policies you did not fully support, without having candidly shared your misgivings, your credibility may be irretrievably damaged.

In our island environment, human control of the exponentially expanding deer herd is an absolute necessity. The form in which the human control is undertaken may be debatable, but to question its necessity is unreasonable.

The word "if" does not belong in an apology.

There are civil remedies for harassment. Criminal penalties may also be imposed.
