

OBITUARIES

Alice Grimes Gaither, 73

Alice Grimes Gaither, 73, died June 7 at her home in Washington, D.C., after a long illness.

Beloved wife of H. Rowan Gaither, Gaither was born in Providence and graduated from Westover School and Sarah Lawrence College, where she earned a bachelor of arts and a teaching certificate in early childhood education. She taught at the Brearley School.

In 1962, she organized and was head teacher at the White House School, which was established by President and Mrs. Kennedy for Caroline Kennedy and other students. After President Kennedy's assassination, the school was moved to the British Embassy. Gaither later started the Schoolhouse, a nursery school and kindergarten in Washington, D.C. She served on the boards of the Potomac School, the Sulgrave Club and the House of Mercy and was a volunteer tutor.

A loving, witty, loyal wife, mother, aunt and friend, Gaither was a passionate reader, tennis player and sailor. She loved the afternoon breezes that cooled the porch of her house in Jamestown during the summer.

In addition to her husband Terry, she leaves behind her son H. Rowan Gaither IV, his wife Masha and grand-daughters Natasha and Nina; her daughter Julie Grimes Gaither; her daughter Charlotte Gaither Morgan and husband Neil Morgan; her brother Paul J. Grimes and wife Katie; her sister Ellen G. Noble; and eleven nieces and nephews and their families.

A funeral mass will be held on Thursday, June 18, at 2 p.m. at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Washington, D.C.

Robert A. Jacobsen, 85

Robert A. Jacobsen, 85, of Tiverton, formerly of Jamestown, died Tuesday, June 9, at Sakonnet Bay Manor.

He was the husband of the late Louise M. (Long) Jacobsen.

Jacobsen graduated from Brown University. He was a U.S. Army Air Corps veteran who served during World War II. He was an advertising salesman and worked for numerous publications in New York City. He retired from Architectural Digest.

Jacobsen was an avid tennis player and enjoyed boating.

He leaves two sons, Eric Jacobsen of Maine and Guy Jacobsen of Tennessee; a brother, Eugene Jacobsen; and two grandchildren, Matthew and Emily Jacobsen.

Services will be private. Memorial contributions in his memory may be made to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, P.O. Box 317, Jamestown, RI 02835.
