

ABOUT TOWN

Register now for trip to New York City

Seniors interested in a day trip to New York City on Thursday, Dec. 17, with the Jamestown Police Association should register soon to reserve their place.

The trip for senior citizens (ages 55 and up) is available on a first-come, first-served basis. The trip includes a visit to Radio City Music Hall, free time for shopping and dinner on the way home.

Due to higher than expected costs, the fee for attendees will be $55.

Bus seats are limited, so call Charlotte at 423-1026 as soon as possible to make a reservation.

Empty Bowls fundraiser tomorrow

The annual Empty Bowls fundraiser will be held tomorrow, Nov. 6, from 3:30 to 7 p.m. at Melrose School.

Local school children and volunteers have been making and glazing bowls for this event. Each guest chooses a bowl, a cloth napkin and a spoon; guests then select from a variety of delicious soups.

All soups are provided by Panera Bread, and a macaroni and cheese dish will also be available. Breads are donated by local bakeries, and desserts are provided by local scouts.

Guests may keep the bowl and napkin.

All proceeds from this volunteer effort benefit local food pantries and the R.I. Community Food Bank.

Admission is $15 for adults and $10 for children under 17 years old. Price includes soup, bread, dessert and coffee. Live music is provided by a local jazz ensemble, and the event also features a silent auction of art items and t-shirts for sale.

The event is funded by the Jamestown Education Foundation and the Jamestown Rotary Club.

Jamestown Gallery to host reception

The Jamestown Gallery will celebrate its grand opening with a reception at the new gallery this Saturday, Nov. 7, from 6 to 8 p.m. at 47 Conanicus Ave.

The Jamestown Gallery is a cooperative of artists, including painters Elizabeth Congdon and Fran Gorman, ceramist Karen Imbriale, marine photographer Daniel Forster and modern artist Roger Kirby. Artists from the space's previous Schock Gallery group are painters Cynthia Blair and Barbara Hutchinson, and photographers Kate Petrie and Pat Tuff. Guest artist Dori Hirsch will show her beaded jewelry this month.

The gallery will be open in November and December, and will reopen again in May.

Garden Club features seasonal arrangements

The Quononoquott Garden Club will sponsor a special holiday program on Monday, Nov. 9, at 2 p.m. at the Jamestown Philomenian Library.

Award-winning floral designer Candace Morgenstern will create imaginative seasonal arrangements to grace your holiday table or entryway. Morgenstern has been the recipient of many blue ribbons at events such as the Newport Flower Show and Providence Flower Show. She also judges at many flower shows.

Refreshments will be served and finished arrangements will be auctioned to fund the club's future civic beautification projects.

The event is free and open to the public. A business meeting for members will begin at 1 p.m.

St. Mark K of C to host pasta dinner

St. Mark Knights of Columbus Council 9197 will hold its Primo Pasta Dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 14, at St Mark's Church Hall at 60 Narragansett Ave.

The menu will include pasta and meatballs, salad, sausage and peppers, Italian bread, dessert and beverages. Tickets are $9 for adults and $5 for children 10 and younger.

Call Dave Nardolillo at 423-2413 for tickets or more information.

CIAA seeks entries for Town Hall art show

The Conanicut Island Art Association will host "Earth, Air, Fire, & Water," its next non-juried, all-medium show at the Town Hall gallery.

The show is open to members and non-members; three pieces may be entered. Members' fees are $10 for the first entry and $5 for each additional entry. Non-members' fees are $15 for the first entry and $5 for each additional. Maximum size allowed is 48 inches x 48 inches and the maximum weight is 20 lbs. All pieces must be wired and ready to hang; no saw tooth hangers and no sharp edges are allowed.

The drop-off date is Thursday, Nov. 12 from noon to 4 p.m. An opening reception will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 19.
